Spatial Temporal Activity Recorder (STAR)

How to use and navigate STAR

This document outlines the STAR system and its functions from navigating, exploring and creating maps, creating programs, projects and activities and recording activity detail. Each function is described in a separate 'How To' document.
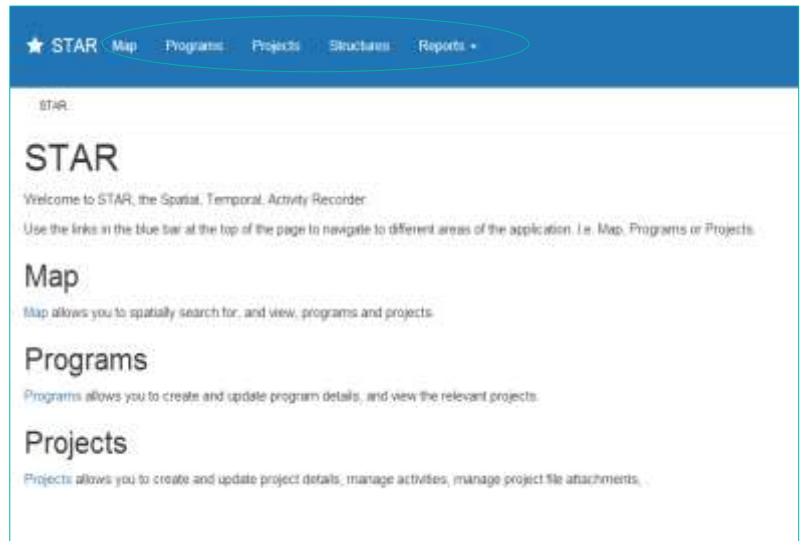

Navigating STAR
STAR Landing Page The STAR landing page is accessed once the user has logged on. Selecting the 'Start Recording' button takes the user to the home page.

STAR Home Page

The home page consists of the:

- 'Main Menu', the blue bar at the top of the screen, and
- hyperlinks in the descriptors in the main page.

STAR Navigation

STAR navigation is consistent throughout the application.

The Main Menu remains visible in all other areas of STAR Clicking the word 'STAR' in the Main Menu returns the user to the home page.

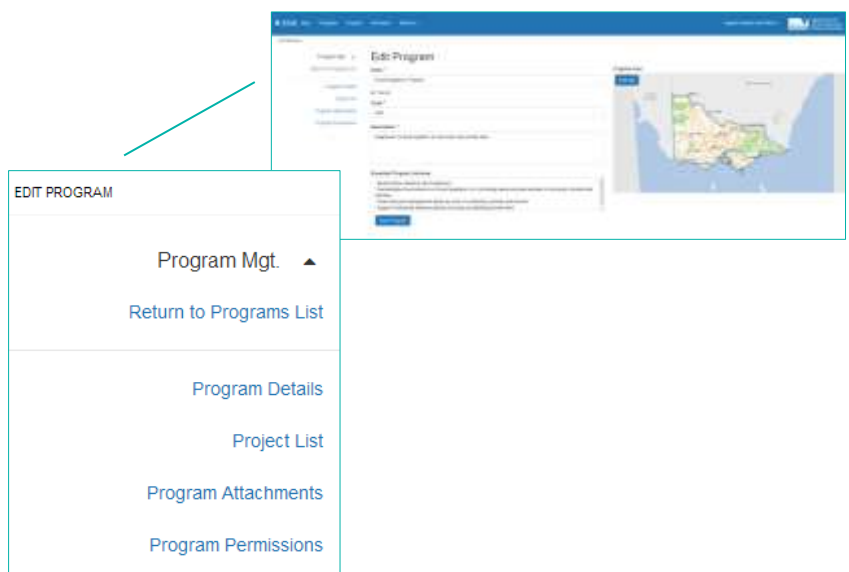

Field Workers, Project and Program Managers have 'Quick Access' hyperlinks to a range of other STAR attributes beyond those shown in the Main Menu.

These hyperlinks are located on the left-hand side of the screen from a selected program, project or activity.

These hyperlinks support navigation within a selected program, project or activity.
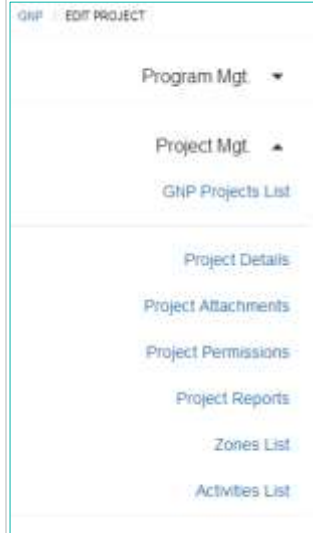

On the 'Program' page a user can navigate back to the Programs list or select projects, attachments or permissions associated with the program.
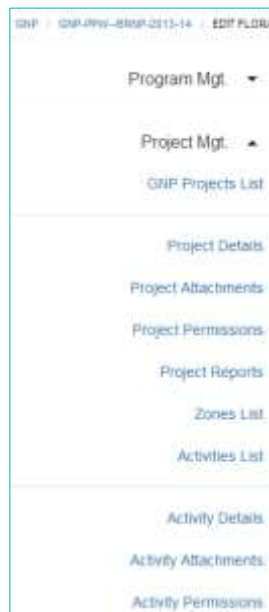

The Quick Access hyperlinks from a Project page supports navigation:

- back to the Program Management Page and the list of projects associated within the program, or
- to project Attachments, Project Permissions Zones List or Activities List associated with the project.

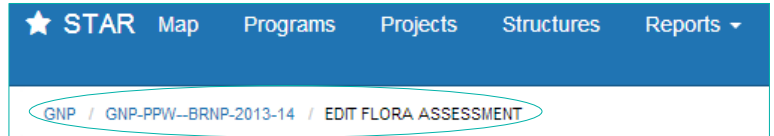

The Quick Access hyperlinks from a selected Activity page supports navigation to the selected Program Management page and the list of projects associated within the program, or Project Details, Project Attachments, Project Permissions, Project Reports, Zones List and Activities List as well as Activity: Details.

The file path displayed under the top navigation bar are known as 'breadcrumbs' and can be used to navigate back to the parent program, project and activity.

The black text indicates the page the user is on and the blue text indicates the available associated hyperlinks.
